

Dick's sporting goods. Down-on-their-luck lawyers and their caregivers. Melancholy, panic, narcissism, and heliotropic flowers. Gorging myself on raw fish. Whether my cat has dandruff and what to do about it. Songbirds falling from the sky. Identifying trees from the texture of their bark. Coming off as unmanly. Manliness in general.

Whether my body is an instrument, an ornament, an incident, the legal property of the person born into it, or an oblivious agent of profit for biotech companies. The past, the future, growing up. The spiritual nature of animals.

My breathing will set me free.
Just breathe.

My breathing will set me free.
Just breathe.

My breathing will set me free.
Just breathe.

My breathing will set me free.
Just breathe.

My breathing will set me free.
Just breathe.

My breathing will set me free.
Just breathe.

My breathing will set me free.
Just breathe.

Grandma energy. Whoever invented sin. Whoever invented sinkholes. The unsettling glow of the Bachquellengraben River. Open casket burials.
Indoctrination camps. Resetting interest rates to avoid financial meltdown. Whoever invented spurs. Whoever invented your comfort animal's soft, synthetic fur.
Whoever invented Dolly Parton. Hacking the central Bank of Japan. Elvira, Mistress of the Dark's sexual orientation.
